TENTH EDITION

1999

INSIDE:

Valuable information for older persons and their families

Winter Touring Breathtaking...

Breathtaking... Spectacular, stunning, majestic... It's well worth it to head west to Alberta and British Columbia just for the view you'll get of the Rockies, and nothing brings you closer than The Canadian. Gaze up at glorious snow-capped peaks, glaciers, and into the lakes they feed. Peek down at the snow-filled valleys that typify the region's Canadian character. The Skeena offers you a particularly fine view of these landscapes. It runs between Jasper, on the east side of the Rockies, and Prince Rupert, on the Pacific coast close to Alaska.

Message from Premier Russell MacLellan

It is a privilege to welcome you to the 10th anniversary issue of Programs for Seniors. This anniversary issue also coincides with the International Year of Older Persons.

Seniors make a significant contribution to our society, and their influence is sure to grow in the coming years. 1999 is both a celebration of ageing, and a reminder about the needs of a world population that has more seniors than ever before. Its interesting to note that by the end of this century, 20 years will have been added to the average life span. At the same time, today's seniors, in general, are in better health and living longer.

I congratulate the Senior Citizens Secretariat for continuing to provide valuable and timely information on services and programs for seniors. The Secretariat also plays a key advocacy role for seniors in Nova Scotia, providing advice to government on a wide range of issues.

I trust you will find this 10th anniversary edition of Programs for Seniors a useful publication.

Yours Truly,

Message from the Chair,
Hon. Francene Cosman

The Senior Citizens Secretariat extends congratulations to Programs for Seniors on this, the 10th anniversary issue. As this is also the International Year of Older Persons, the Secretariat has a full and busy year planned for 1999.

The Secretariat is a committee of ministers working with seniors and their organizations on programs, services and activities that are important to their quality of life. As Chair of the Secretariat, part of my role is to provide a link between seniors and the government.

Government programs and services work to recognize the different needs of seniors, as well as the contributions seniors make to society. We are fortunate to have the Secretariat to deal with and highlight issues that affect the health and well-being of seniors.

The Secretariat invites comments on this 10th anniversary edition of Programs for Seniors. Please take advantage of our toll-free telephone number (1-800-670-0065) and the dedicated staff of the Secretariat will be pleased to provide you with assistance and information. It gives me great pleasure, as Canada's Minister of Health and Minister Responsible for Seniors, to extend to Nova Scotia seniors my best wishes during this, the International Year of Older Persons (IYOP).

In Nova Scotia, as in the rest of Canada, seniors are an increasingly large segment of the population. Given the importance of information in maintaining overall health, competence and well-being in our complex society, it is vital that seniors have access to information on the services, activities and programs available to them.

This tenth edition of Programs for Seniors continues the work of providing useful information to seniors, facilitating their continued participation in the life of our communities and fostering the realization of Canada's theme for IYOP: Canada, a society for all ages.

My best wishes to the readers of this valuable resource. May the International Year of Older Persons provide communities everywhere an opportunity to recognize seniors and celebrate their achievements and contributions.

À titre de Ministre de la Santé et de Ministre responsable des aînés, c'est avec grand plaisir que je souhaite à tous les aînés et aînées de la Nouvelle-Écosse une bonne Année internationale des personnes âgées (AIPA).

En Nouvelle-Écosse comme ailleurs au pays, une grande proportion de la population vieillit. Étant donné l'importance de l'information pour assurer la santé, le fonctionnement et le bien-être des individus dans une société aussi complexe que la nôtre, il est essentiel que les aînés aient accès aux renseignements sur les programmes, services et activités qui leur sont destinés.

Cette dixième édition du guide Programs for Seniors communique justement aux aînés cette information utile, facilitant ainsi leur participation soutenue à la vie de nos collectivités et la réalisation du thème canadien pour l'AIPA : Le Canada, une société pour tous les âges.

Mes meilleurs vœux aux lecteurs de ce guide. Que l'Année internationale des personnes âgées soit l'occasion pour toutes les collectivités de reconnaître l'apport des aînés et de célébrer leurs contributions.

Allan Rock

Provincial

Senior Citizens' Secretariat

Legislation was introduced at the 1980 Session of the Nova Scotia Legislature which provided for the establishment of the Secretariat. The Act designated the Ministers of Social Services, Health, Municipal Affairs and the Minister charged with the administration of the Housing Act as constituting the Secretariat, with the Governor-in-Council having the authority to add other persons. The Ministers of Education, Culture, Recreation and Fitness were added on August 17, 1982.

The mandate of the Secretariat is to facilitate the planning and development of services and programs for seniors by coordinating plans, policies and programs presented by the departments of the provincial government, and by developing plans, policies and programs for and with seniors in partnership with the responsible departments of government and other provincial bodies and voluntary seniors' groups.

The members of the secretariat include:

Honourable Francene Cosman
Minister of Community Services
Honourable James Smith, Minister of Health
Honourable Ray White, Minister of Housing & Municipal Affairs
Honorable Wayne Gaudet, Minister of Education & Culture
Honourable Robert Harrison, Minister
Responsible for the NS Sport &
Recreation Commission

The office of the Secretariat is located at:
4th Floor, Dennis Building,
1740 Granville St.
P.O. Box 2065, Halifax, NS B3J 2Z1

Nova Scotia Centre on Aging

Mount Saint Vincent University

The Nova Scotia Centre on Aging was officially opened in 1992, with a three-part mandate of education, research and outreach in the field of aging. The Centre is affiliated with Mount Saint Vincent University's Department of Gerontology. One focus area defined by the Centre on Aging is that of care-giving to the elderly, including operation of a Caregiver Resource Library. To learn more, contact: Marlene MacLellan, Coordinator

Nova Scotia Centre on Aging
Mount Saint Vincent University
166 Bedford Highway, Halifax, NS
B3M 2J6
Phone:(902) 457-6546; Fax:(902)445-3960

The Nova Scotia Centre on Aging at Mount Saint Vincent University was established in 1992 primarily because of the persistent efforts of Dr. Fred MacKinnon, Director of the Senior Citizens' Secretariat from 1980-1995. He saw the need for an academic centre which could provide leadership in the field of Gerontology and be a resource to various sectors of the community.

Dr. F.R. MacKinnon

Endowment Fund

On July 18, 1996 an endowment fund called the Dr. F.R. MacKinnon Endowment Fund was established at the NS Centre on Aging. The fund will advance the mandate of the Centre which is to establish standards of excellence in research, continuing education and community outreach/consultation in age related issues. Income from the Endowment Fund could be used to assist students or a specific project or other needs as determined by the Centre's Board. All contributions to the Fund are accepted as a charitable donation and income tax receipts will be issued. Those wishing to contribute to the fund should make their cheque payable to Mount Saint Vincent University and send it to the Dr. F.R. MacKinnon Endowment Fund, c/o Development Office, Mount Saint Vincent University,

Halifax, NS B3M 2J6.

~~Gerontology Association of Nova Scotia~~

The Gerontology Association of Nova Scotia is a multidisciplinary provincial association established in 1977 to provide leadership on issues related to aging. The aims and objectives of the Association include: providing opportunities for individuals and organizations with an interest in aging to meet and share common concerns; foster networking amongst individuals and organizations; facilitate gerontological research in Nova Scotia; and serve as a consulting body on issues related to older Nova Scotians. The Association's activities include: workshops, networking, "brown bag" educational seminars, student scholarship, educational symposium and a newsletter.

Membership is open to organizations and individuals with an interest in aging.

~~Canadian Pensioners Concerned~~

(CPC) - Nova Scotia (founded 1971 - incorporated 1974)

Canadian Pensioners Concerned - Nova Scotia is an intergenerational, volunteer, non-profit advocacy organization which addresses housing, pensions and financial issues, health care, abuse, legal, transportation and other concerns affecting older Nova Scotians, their families and caregivers. Membership is open to anyone above the age of 18 years.

Ongoing activities include research and preparation of briefs, reports, publications and educational materials; dialogue with government and networking with other organizations; participation in conferences and meetings; sponsorship/implementation of projects, forums and workshops; and provision of information on numerous topics to the public.

Publications available from CPC (Provincial) includes: "Battered and Betrayed", an information book about Elder Abuse; "Housing Information Handbook for Older Nova Scotians"; "Action Through Advocacy" - an information/skills book, and "My Plans for Me" - an education kit about Advance Health Care Directives.

CPC's walk-in information office which provides resources and referrals is staffed by volunteers Monday to Friday, 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. (with reduced summer hours). Monthly meetings are held on the fourth Monday of each month (excluding June, July and December). For information contact:

Disabled Persons Commission

The Province of Nova Scotia established the Disabled Persons Commission in order to provide a mechanism to ensure that the concerns of persons with disabilities are promoted and considered, especially in matters of policy and where concerns affect several government departments. The Commission facilitates communication of information on programs and services available to Nova Scotians with disabilities. As well, the Commission reviews existing government policies and programs which relate to or affect persons with disabilities to ensure that they are appropriate, effective and reflect the needs and concerns of the community.

The Act provides a mechanism for persons with disabilities to become policy advisors on issues and concerns that directly affect their lives.

Seniors' Councils

In order to deal with the seniors issues common to all the councils, the seniors' councils under the Halifax Regional Municipality decided to form in 1997 a co-ordinating organization under the name "Association of Halifax Regional Seniors' Councils". The objectives of the Association are as follows:

- Form partnership and work in collaboration with organizations having similar objectives.
- Examine and discuss concerns of aging and elderly citizens residing within Halifax Regional Municipality.
- Offer advice and council to government, business and community in programs and services for the people over the age of 50 years.
- Promote and support initiatives that enhance the well-being of people over the age of 50 years.
- Share with member councils information on all matters related to seniors.

In fulfilment of its objectives the Association organizes workshops and seminars, exchanges information between the seniors' councils and tries to maintain contacts with the senior clubs of the metro area.

Federal

Division of Aging and Seniors, Health Care
The Division of Aging and Seniors, Health Canada, serves Canadians as a centre of information and advice on seniors and aging issues.

Activities include:

- providing national leadership on issues related to aging and seniors;
- providing knowledgeable advice to the Minister of Health;
- increasing and sharing knowledge on factors leading to possible illness, disability and death;
- developing and disseminating resources to enhance the independence and personal autonomy of seniors;
- working and consulting with partners (the provinces, territories, seniors' organizations and other sectors) to strengthen Canada's capacity to support healthy aging; and
- addressing issues concerning the end of life.

In addition the Division:

- provides operational support to the National Advisory Council on Aging and;
- supports the later life component of the Population Health Fund.

In executing all of its roles and responsibilities, the Division promotes the meaningful participation of seniors in federal decisions and activities that affect them. The most recent publications from the Division are: The Safe Living Guide; A Guide for Home Safety for Seniors; Seniors Info Exchange; and a regular newsletter. Too Good To Waste

NOVA SCOTIANS are fortunate to live in a province recognized around the world for its beauty and vitality. And more of us are realizing that the quality of life we enjoy is worth preserving for future generations. Reducing, reusing, recycling and composting are helping to make this an even better place to call home.

It's simple, convenient and helps:

- reduce the number of landfills
- create jobs for Nova Scotians
- protect precious resources

Every bit helps get us closer to the goal of a 50 per cent reduction in solid waste by the year 2000.

After all, Nova Scotia is too good to waste.

The Population Health Fund

Health Canada has adopted a population health approach to further its continuing mandate to maintain and improve the health of Canadians. The population health approach integrates action on a broad range of determinants that affect the health of all Canadians. To support this approach, the Population Health Fund has been created.

Health Canada's population health approach incorporates a life cycle framework which consists of three life stages: childhood and adolescence, early to mid-adulthood, and later life. This approach emphasizes action on health determinants within a specific life stage and across the life span.

The Population Health Fund has three objectives it seeks to achieve through strategic project funding:

- To increase capacity for action on or across determinants of population health.
- To develop, implement and disseminate innovative models for applying the population health approach.
- To increase the knowledge base for future program and policy development.

The Fund is designed to support time-limited projects sponsored by voluntary, non-profit, non-government organizations which contribute to an increased capacity for action on the determinants of population health.

For more information on the Fund contact the Health Promotion and Programs Branch Office in the Atlantic Region.

National Advisory Council on Aging

The National Advisory Council on Aging (NACA) assists and advises the Minister of Health on issues related to aging and the quality of life of seniors. More specifically, the Council:

- reviews the needs and problems of seniors in Canada and recommends remedial action;
- maintains contact with national, provincial and local associations, institutions, and groups involved with or representing seniors;
- stimulates public discussion on seniors' issues; and
- publishes reports and distributes information on aging.

The Council has a maximum of 18 members from all parts of Canada. Members are appointed for two-or-three year terms. Members bring to the council a variety of experiences, concerns and abilities.

The Canadian Association on Gerontology

The Canadian Association on Gerontology (CAG) is a national, multi-disciplinary scientific and educational association established to provide leadership in matters related to the aging population. A registered Canadian charity, the CAG was formed on October 15, 1971 and is a member of the International Association of Gerontology.

The mission of the CAG is the development of theoretical and practical understanding of individual and population aging through multidisciplinary research, practice, education and policy analysis in gerontology.

Our membership is a dynamic mix of people interested in the field of gerontology including health care professionals, researchers, academics, administrators, government representatives, national organizational executives, students and seniors.

In order to accommodate the extensive interests and expertise of its members, the CAG has five divisions:

- Health and Biological Sciences
- Social Sciences
- Social Policy and Practice
- Psychology
- Educational Gerontology

Certificates and Identification Cards

Certificates

Proof of Age

Many reductions and benefits are available to senior citizens. To receive them, however, you are expected to prove your age. This is especially important when you are applying for government pensions and benefits. A copy of your birth or baptismal certificate should be included with your pension application form. If these are not available, other documents are often accepted to establish age.

Baptismal Certificates

The church where you were baptised may supply you with a baptismal certificate. If you do not know the specific church, write the central office of your religious denomination. They may have duplicate records.

Marriage, Birth and Death Certificates

If you were born in Canada, you may obtain your birth certificate by writing to the Vital Statistics Branch of the province in which you were born. In Nova Scotia, death and marriage certificates are also available.

Marriage, birth and death certificates can be obtained in person 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday to Friday:
Vital Statistics Office
1690 Hollis St. Halifax, NS B3J 2N3: or you may apply in writing to:

Vital Statistics Office

P.O. Box 157, Halifax, NS B3J 2M9
Phone: (902) 424-4380 (information recording); or (902) 424-4381;
Toll-free: 1-877-848-2578;
Fax (902) 424-0678

The fee for each wallet-sized certificate is $20.00. Your application must contain your full name (first, middle, and last), the date and place of the event; and, in the case of birth certificates, your parents' full names (including mother's maiden name). You must also state the reason for your request.

If you require additional assistance or if you were NOT born in Canada, the Vital Statistics Office may be able to provide you with information on where to write for a foreign birth certificate: Phone (902) 424-4381.

The Department of Business and Consumer Services is pleased to offer a photo identification card service through all of its Registry of Motor Vehicle offices and at Access Nova Scotia Centres in Kentville, Dartmouth and Halifax.

The process is simple. Those wanting a photo ID must present one of the following combinations:

- 1) a drivers licence plus two other pieces of identification.
- 2) a birth certificate plus two other pieces of identification.
- 3) a driver's licence or birth certificate plus one other piece of identification and a statutory declaration.

The fee for the service is $14 and the card is valid for five years.

24 Consumer Protection

Nova Scotia Department of Business and Consumer Services

The Department of Business and Consumer Services provides assistance to Nova Scotians in issues related to the marketplace, financial matters or consumer complaints.

Debtor Assistance

This Department provides financial counselling to families and administers the orderly payment of debt provisions of the Bankruptcy Act. These provisions enable consumers to repay their debts over three to five years, while freezing interest costs at five per cent. Consumers are also assisted through consumer proposals under the Bankruptcy Act, which can provide flexibility in restructuring debt.

Licensing

The Department examines and licenses many business people, including agents for real estate, collection and insurance companies, cemetery and funeral services, direct sellers, mortgage brokers and lenders. If consumers are concerned that the person with whom they are dealing is not licensed, or is not providing adequate service, they should call the Department of Business and Consumer Services.

Inspection and Compliance

The Department investigates and audits the agents and companies that are licensed by the Department. Consumer complaints about the practices of licensed individuals are carefully investigated, particularly those related to trust monies.

Financial Institutions and Revenue

The division regulates financial institutions such as trust and loan companies, credit union and insurance companies, and responds to consumer concerns about their practices and their agents.

Residential Tenancy and Condominiums

This section is in charge of mediating tenancy complaints between landlords and tenants, whether they involve the return of security deposits, unpaid rent, the condition of the apartment, discontinuance of services or other problems.

Condominiums are also registered with this division, and seniors having concerns about the declaration, by-laws and rules governing their units can check with this department for more information.

Amusement Regulation

This section licenses all theatres and places of amusement, such as video stores and arcades, dance halls, Legions, etc. The Amusement Regulation Board classifies all movies and videos before they are shown, rented or sold in Nova Scotia. For more information on these programs, contact:

The period following a death is highly emotional. A little bit of pre-planning can spare your friends and family from confusion, worry, some agonizing decisions, and legal entanglements.

Do you know where your important papers and documents are located? If you do not, it is unlikely that your survivors will be able to find these papers.

Your immediate family or friends should be entrusted with the location of your personal documents. This matter is best done by preparing a list of your most important documents, and keeping them in one location. You should include these documents in your record:

- birth certificate
- social insurance number
- will
- insurance policies
- mortgages
- deeds
- tax bills
- leases
- debts, and
- bank accounts

SENIORS FOR SENIORS™

We offer the services of empathetic senior citizens and older adults to assist other senior citizens.

Our personnel are available in the mornings, afternoons, evenings or the weekends, overnight or on a live-in basis.

They prepare meals, whether breakfast, lunch or dinner and perform light housekeeping duties.

Funeral Plans

When someone dear to you dies, it is important to find his/her instructions concerning funeral arrangements and bequeathing the body for medical research or organ donation.

Funeral arrangements can be very expensive. Ask for detailed estimates before committing yourself, and try to cut cost by eliminating the items you consider to be least important. Cremation is one available alternative.

In situations where there is little or no money for funeral expense, assistance may be available through the Community Services office. If the deceased was a war veteran, Veterans Affairs Canada may also provide assistance. For members of religious organizations, you should call your clergyman first.

Last Post Fund - Veterans Funeral Services

The Last Post Fund is a non-profit national corporation with branches across Canada. Its purpose is to arrange and pay for the funeral and burial of qualified war veterans. Applications for reimbursement of funeral and burial costs may also be submitted for consideration up to one year following the death of a war veteran. For more information on how to qualify for these benefits, contact:
Last Post Fund, Nova Scotia Branch
Suite 1003, 6080 Young St., Halifax, NS
B3K 5L2; Phone: (902) 455-5283;
Fax: (902) 455-4058;
Toll-free: 1-800-565-4777

Death Certificate

In most situations funeral directors look after the arrangements and have the death registration submitted to the Deputy Registrar General. If you require copies of the death certificate for any purpose, they may be obtained for a fee of $20.00 each from:
The Deputy Registrar General
Department of Business and Consumer

Services, P.O.Box 157, Halifax, NS
B3J 2M9; Phone:(902) 424-4380 (recorded information) or 424-4381

Death Benefits

Several pension plans include survivor benefits. All sources of income for the deceased should be checked to see what provisions are made for survivors. Because of the ways pensions and annuities are treated under the Income Tax Act, it is important for a surviving spouse to examine all options. Plans to consider are: Old Age Security, Canada Pension Plan Death Benefit, survivors pension, dependent childrens' pension; and any private pension plans, i.e. military pensions, company and/or other work related plans. If you need assistance with this, consult an accountant.

Community Contact for the Widowed

Community Contact for the Widowed offers social, educational, and one-to-one counselling programs for those who have been recently widowed. The Association meets monthly (September to June) at Spencer House and coordinates a widow-to-widow and widower-to-widower support program. The group provides information, referrals, and emotional support as well as professional help, if requested. The Association aims at developing a community awareness of the problems of bereavement. Palliative Care Palliative care blends the compassionate caring of the historical hospice movement with the best modern medicine can offer, to address the needs of those who are terminally ill or living with advanced disease, and their families.

Palliative care:

- * affirms life and regards dying as a normal process
- * neither hastens nor prolongs death
- * provides relief from pain and other distressing symptoms
- * integrates the physical, psychosocial and spiritual aspects of care
- * offers a support system to help patients live as actively as possible until death
- * offers a support system to help the family cope during the patient's illness and in their own bereavement.

Nova Scotia Hospice/Palliative Care Association

The Nova Scotia Hospice/Palliative Care Association exists to promote the philosophy and principles of palliative care, to provide education for its members and the public, and to become the recognized voice for palliative care in the province. The Association has two principle goals: that

- * Optimum palliative care should be accessible to all Nova Scotians, and that
- * Health care professionals in NS should have the knowledge and skills to provide such care.

Palliative Care Program Queen Elizabeth II Health Science Centre

This service is available to patients and families coping with limited life expectancy. The emphasis of the program is on providing the greatest possible relief of suffering and maintaining the highest possible quality of life. Referrals are accepted from acute and long-term care sections at QEII, from other area hospitals and from family physicians. The focus is on assisting with pain and symptom management and helping the patient to return home, if possible. Home support through the larger metropolitan area is available through collaboration with family physicians and community agencies. A six bed in-patient care unit is available at the Victoria General Site to assist with difficult pain and symptoms management. Bereavement support is also available to families through phone calls, small support groups and memorial services. For additional information, contact:

Northwood Hospice Service

Northwood's Hospice Service has been in existence since 1984. Currently, two RNs with experience in pain and symptom assessment and management provide a consultation service for residents in care at Northwood, and in the apartments. They help to coordinate a multi-disciplinary team of health professionals and hospice trained volunteers to provide a holistic approach to meeting the needs of residents. Through Northwood Homecare, the Hospice Volunteers can be accessed to assist Northwood Homecare staff in the care of palliative care clients at home. The Service utilizes Northwood's policy and procedures to assist residents, and their families in the preparation of advance directives in health care, and in making care decisions.

Elder Abuse

Adult Protection Legislation

The Act provides a means whereby all persons in Nova Scotia 16 years of age and over, who lack the physical and mental ability to adequately care and fend for themselves can be protected from abuse and neglect. Anyone who has information, even if it is confidential or privileged, regarding a person 16 years of age or older being abused or neglected and who is physically or mentally incapable must by law report that information to the appropriate authorities. No action shall be taken against a person who gives information unless the giving of the information is done maliciously or without reasonable and probable cause.

Suspected neglect or abuse must be reported to one of the following Community Service offices:

Senior Support Network (Kings County)

The issue of abuse against seniors is a difficult one to address. The Senior Support Network attempts to do so in several ways. We have resources and provide education sessions on abuse against seniors and get people talking about the issue. Prevention and intervention is facilitated when communities feel free to talk about it rather than ignore it. We offer support to older adults who have suffered various forms of violence. This might include people who are now experiencing or have experienced physical, emotional, social or financial abuse; perhaps someone who has been a victim of fraud or robbery. Often times, having someone to talk to without fear of being judged or blamed can help us cope with the effects of violence. We offer peer counselling. This may help in identifying alternatives and empower the individual to make decisions. We offer advocacy for individuals who may require assistance in accessing services in their community.

The Senior Support Network has trained volunteers in Kings County ready to offer older adults these support and advocacy services in any way they feel necessary. If the support or service required by the individual exceeds the scope of this program, appropriate referrals will be made.

For more information or to make a referral, please contact the coordinator, Barb Lawrence, at 543-6135.

"Live Well with Pharmasave" ...It's Our Commitment.

You have probably seen it by now—the phrase above our name that reads "Live Well with Pharmasave". At Pharmasave we regard this phrase as more than just a slogan. It is our commitment to provide the healthcare products, services and information that will benefit you, your family and our community the most. Visit our store and talk with our pharmacists and staff—you will see that it is a commitment we take very seriously.

At Pharmasave, we believe that keeping you well begins with keeping you 'well informed'. That is why we provide highly informative health and lifestyle brochures—why we have built an award winning Internet site—why we hold valuable in-store health clinics—and why our pharmacists will always make the time to offer professional advice, one-on-one.

When it comes to your health, we believe that by supporting you, your doctors and your community healthcare professionals, we all benefit. We want you to be and stay in the best possible health. That's why we consider "Live Well with Pharmasave", not a slogan, but words to live by.

Income Security Programs

Old Age Security Pension (OAS)

The Old Age Security pension is a monthly benefit available to anyone 65 years of age or over who meets the necessary Canadian residence and legal residence status requirements. The amount of the pension is determined by how long the applicant has lived in Canada. A minimum of 10 years residence in Canada after age 18 is required to qualify for a pension. The pension is payable outside of Canada to those people who have lived in Canada for at least 20 years. OAS benefits are indexed quarterly and are subject to income tax.

If an applicant has insufficient periods of residence in Canada to qualify for a pension, he or she may still qualify for a pension if he or she has resided and/or made social security contributions in a country with which Canada has concluded a social security agreement.

The OAS program is financed from federal government general tax revenues.

Guaranteed Income Supplement (GIS)

The GIS is a monthly benefit paid to OAS pensioners who have little or no other income. Like the OAS pension, it is indexed quarterly. The amount of GIS to which a person is entitled depends on his or her marital status and income. Generally, income earned in the previous year is used to calculate the amount of benefits paid. However, if a pensioner or spouse has retired or has a loss of pension income, an income estimate for the current calendar year may be substituted for the income of the preceding calendar year. Recipients must re-apply annually for the GIS benefit. Unlike the OAS pension, the GIS is not subject to income tax. The GIS is paid outside of Canada for only six months plus the month of departure, regardless of how long the person has lived in Canada.

Spouses' Allowance (SPA)

The SPA is an income-tested benefit paid to the spouse of an OAS pensioner, or to a widow or widower. To qualify, an applicant must be between the ages of 60 and 64, must have lived in Canada for at least 10 years after turning age 18 and must be a Canadian citizen or legal resident of Canada. It is indexed quarterly and is not subject to income tax.

To qualify, the combined yearly income of the applicant and the pensioner spouse or the annual income of the surviving spouse, cannot exceed certain limits. SPA pensioners must re-apply annually. Like the GIS, SPA benefits are only paid outside of Canada for six months plus the month of departure, regardless of how long the person lived in Canada.

Canada Pension Plan (CPP)

The Canada Pension Plan which began in 1966, provides basic benefits when a contributor to the plan retires or becomes disabled, and at the contributor's death, the Plan provides survivor benefits to the surviving spouse and dependent children. The amount of the benefit depends on the amount of earnings and contributions to the Plan. All CPP benefits are paid out of the CPP fund and are subject to income tax.

Canada Pension Plan Survivors Benefits

Surviving Spouses Benefits

The Canada Pension Plan pay a monthly pension to the spouse of a deceased contributor if the contributor made sufficient contributions to the Plan. The amount of the pension is determined by the amount of contributions to the Plan and the age of the surviving spouse at the time of death and whether there are dependent children.

Death Benefit

A death benefit is a lump-sum benefit paid to the estate of the deceased contributor, if contri-

Provincial Government Financial Programs

Property Tax Rebate

This program offers a 50% rebate off residential property taxes (up to a maximum of $400) to senior citizens who are homeowners and in receipt of the Guaranteed Income Supplement or Spouses' Allowance in January of the year of application

Effective 1996, ONLY those seniors that received a Property Tax Rebate in 1995 will be eligible for the rebate in future years. In other words, no new applications will be accepted after 1995.

Rental Assistance

This program assists seniors (singles and couples) who rent in the private market and are in receipt of the Guaranteed Income Supplement or Spouses Allowance to those who are single, 65 and over, whose income does not exceed $17,475 annually. Effective April 1, 1995, only those seniors in receipt of Rental Assistance as of March 31, 1995 are eligible to receive the rental assistance in future months. No new applications will be accepted after March 31, 1995.

Special Social Assistance

The Special Social Assistance Program, revamped in December 1991, provides financial assistance monthly to needy seniors. To qualify a senior must be receiving the Guaranteed Income Supplement and Old Age Security and meet the requirements set down in a needs test which considers both income and assets.

Seniors expenses such as food, clothing, shelter and transportation will be compared with the revenue coming into the home and the difference will be paid as Special Social Assistance.

Workers' Compensation Board of Nova Scotia

The Workers' Compensation Act of Nova Scotia is designed to protect both injured workers and employers by providing financial assistance, medical aid, re-employment, vocational rehabilitation and protection from litigation. Financial assistance may include payment of temporary earnings-loss benefits (payable at the rate of 75% of net pre-accident earnings up to 26 weeks and 85% thereafter), extended earnings-loss benefits (when a permanent impairment has been determined and there is an earning loss), permanent impairment benefits (for loss of enjoyment of life caused by a permanent injury), and an annuity (which replaces the extended earnings-loss benefits which are discontinued at age 65). As well, if a worker dies as a result of a workplace accident, the Act allows for survivors' benefits and dependent child benefits. For more information, please contact:

Income Assistance Programs

Please note that this program is administered by the Nova Scotia Department of Community Services in the sites of municipal or regional government.

Social Assistance Supplementation for seniors is related primarily to such needs as drugs, housing and transportation. Assistance may be paid to supplement federal and provincial benefits where individual need is such that the federal and/or provincial benefits are inadequate. The decision to grant Social Assistance rests with the individual municipal unit. The costs of Municipal Assistance are shared by the federal, provincial and municipal levels of government.

Municipalities may provide an in-home support program for needy family members or relatives who are caring for a senior (parent, aunt, uncle, sibling) in those instances where the senior might otherwise require placement in a home for special care. Persons wishing to apply for this program should direct their enquiries to their local municipal social services office, which is responsible for determining a person's eligibility for, and payment under, this program.

Insurance: A Seniors Perspective

Introduction

Insurance touches the lives of virtually everyone. Insurance is used as an investment to provide funds for some future purpose, to provide income during a period of disability and to provide for health care costs. Insurance is also used to provide protection against an event that could result in a major financial loss such as the destruction of a home or a serious automobile accident.

Despite the fact that most adults have one or more insurance policies it is probably true to say that generally the policies are not well understood. Policies are contractual documents that set out the risks that are covered and so they are mostly written in language that is well understood by the courts but is difficult for untrained people to read and understand.

Because of the importance of insurance in our lives it should not be purchased without consultation with a qualified insurance agent who is able to assess the needs of a prospective purchaser and how these needs can be best addressed.

Life Insurance

Life insurance is most frequently purchased when the intention is to provide for the education of children or to provide financial security for a family in the event of the death of the breadwinner of the family or to provide for burial and other final expenses such as income tax.

The major obstacle to purchasing life insurance is the existence of medical problems. In many cases seniors will have health conditions that would result in denial of an application for life insurance. Some companies, however, will issue policies with a moderate amount of life insurance, say $25,000, to anyone regardless of health conditions.

Life insurance is also available to fund a pre-arranged funeral through most funeral homes.

Home Insurance

Seniors who are home owners, condominium owners or who live in rented premises should have their property insured. Insurance packages can be purchased from independent insurance brokers throughout the Province.

When purchasing home insurance it can pay to shop around. Purchasers should obtain quotations from a number of brokers.

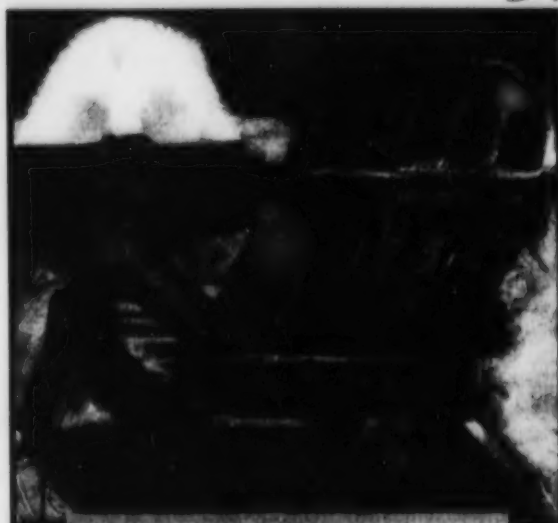

Some companies will reduce premiums for seniors, for membership in a professional or alumni association, or where an auto policy is also purchased from the same company.

Premiums can also be lowered by choosing higher deductibles for claims.

When a home insurance policy is in place the homeowner should be sure to advise the broker if any material changes take place.

Automobile Insurance

Certain automobile insurance coverages are compulsory in Nova Scotia as they are in all Canadian jurisdictions. These compulsory coverages include Section A, B and D of the standard auto policy. Section A covers any liability for damages that falls to the owner of a vehicle that is at fault or partially at fault in an accident. Section B provides certain accident benefits, which are set out in the policy, to the driver and passengers in the vehicle regardless of who is at fault for the accident. Section D provides coverage for damages caused by an uninsured auto.

Section C of the auto policy covers damage to the insured vehicle such as collision and comprehensive. These coverages will provide compensation for damage to your own vehicle if you are at fault or partially at fault in an accident.

Conclusion

It should be understood that the information set out in this article is very general in nature and does not in any way fully explain the complexities of any type of insurance. Anyone who wishes more information or who is experiencing difficulty either in purchasing insurance or in dealing with a claim should contact the Office of the Superintendent of Insurance at the following address and telephone number.

PROGRAMS FOR SENIORS ~ CALL TOLL FREE 1-800-670-0065

Seniors' Pharmacare Program

Pharmacare is a provincial drug insurance program to help seniors manage their prescription drugs cost. It is available to Nova Scotia residents 65 years of age and older and who are registered under the MSI program. Pharmacare is an optional program.

Pharmacare coverage begins on the first day of the month you turn 65. You have three months from your 65th birthday to decide whether you want to join Pharmacare before late-entry requirements apply.

How do I pay?

Seniors participating in the Pharmacare Program pay an annual premium payment. Low income seniors may apply for a credit to help them pay their premium. Premiums can be paid in one lump sum, quarterly or monthly payments. A co-payment will also have to be paid when picking up medications at the pharmacy.

What does Pharmacare cover?

Pharmacare covers approximately 3,500 medications which have been approved for coverage by the Nova Scotia Department of Health. In order to be covered by Pharmacare, medications must be prescribed by a physician or dentist and dispensed by a pharmacist. The list of medications covered can change as new medications become available. A senior's physician or pharmacist will explain the changes if they involve the medication the senior is taking. Pharmacare program costs are shared between seniors and the Nova Scotia government.

Pharmacare Trust Fund

Pharmacare premiums and government funding are placed in a Pharmacare Trust Fund which is used to pay for the program.

Pharmacare Board of Directors

The Seniors' Pharmacare Board of Directors, the majority of whom are seniors, monitor the Pharmacare Trust Fund and provides the government direction on Pharmacare policy issues.

It is very important for all seniors to have a drug insurance program they can depend on. If seniors choose not to join Pharmacare, they should check with their private insurer to make sure that the coverage they had before they turned 65 will continue to meet their drug insurance needs during their senior years.

Provincial Health Card

It is important that you renew your Health Card to ensure your file is up-to-date with accurate information. Renewal notices are mailed three months prior to the expiry date which is embossed on the front of your card (that is why it is very important to contact the MSI office each time your address changes to ensure you will receive your renewal). If you are using an expired Health Card you may be asked to pay for the service rendered.

Your Health Card must be presented each time you visit your physician or use a provincial health program. If leaving the province for an extended absence, please contact the MSI office to ensure your continuous medical coverage.

If you have any questions or would like more information contact the MSI office at (902)

Home Care and Support Services

Department of Health

Home Care Nova Scotia

Home Care Nova Scotia provides a variety of quality services to individuals at home, enabling them to receive care and assistance among family and friends. Services fall under the categories of Chronic Home Care and Acute Home Care.

Home Care is available to all residents of Nova Scotia who need its services and who have a Nova Scotia Health Card. Those eligible for the program may have an illness or disability which can be cared for at home safely and effectively.

People may refer themselves or may be referred by others, such as family members, friends, physicians or neighbors. Following a referral, a care coordinator works with the individual, their family and health professionals, to assess his or her needs and develop an appropriate plan of care. Requests for assessments are made through the toll free number 1-800-225-7225.

There are currently two categories of Home Care:

Chronic Home Care provides services to individuals who are chronically ill, disabled or facing the infirmities of old age and who require support and assistance to remain living in their own homes and communities.

Acute Home Care provides services to individuals with acute illnesses requiring short term care and can delay or prevent hospital admission or shorten the length of a hospital stay.

A range of services are provided to meet Nova Scotians' health needs at any time of the day or night throughout the week.

These include:

- personal care (e.g. bathing, dressing and eating);
- home support (e.g. light housekeeping, laundry and meal preparation)

- nursing (e.g. administering medications, dressing changes and general nursing care)
- home oxygen concentrator services; and
- family relief/respite services in the home.

Home care services are provided by a network of health care professionals including home support workers, nurses and physicians. Service providers are required to comply with set standards of training and practice.

Cost to the Consumer

Home Care Nova Scotia is funded by Nova Scotia Department of Health. There is no cost to individuals benefiting from Acute Home Care. People receiving Chronic Home Care may pay a portion of home support, personal care and home oxygen fees, depending upon their income. There is no charge for nursing

~~Victorian Order of Nurses~~

The Victorian Order of Nurses is a non-profit, charitable community health organization which provides professional nursing service to individuals and their families in their home or in the community setting. The VON has established many nursing, home support and volunteer services. Programs include senior citizens' health maintenance programs, foot care and health assessment clinics, occupational health programs, a friendly visiting service, and adult day centres.

The visiting nursing service is available to all ages, seven days a week. It includes health assessment and teaching, rehabilitation, palliative care and bereavement follow-up. A major focus is assisting seniors to maintain a sense of independence and self-determination. Referrals are accepted from all sources and care is provided in consultation with a physician.

The VON is supported by fees for service, donations, grants and fundraising projects. The fee is based on the average cost of the visit. No one in the areas served is refused service for financial reasons. Thirteen branches serve 82 per cent of the population of the province. Services provided may vary by branch. To inquire about services in your area, please call your local branch.

We Care Home Health Services

Since 1983, We Care has become one of Canada's largest and most trusted providers of personalized in-home care and support services. One call to We Care can arrange any amount and level of care required, whether it is Professional Nursing, Home Support Services, Foot Care or Special Needs Services. For most We Care clients, the care giving process begins with a free in-home assessment and the discussion of a care plan. And over time, as people's situations change, We Care's personalized support services are adjusted to meet the changing needs. We also take the opportunity to ensure that the client is able to take best advantage of available health insurance and community health care programs. Qualifications, skills and professional experience are only part of what it takes to become a Care Specialist on the We Care team.

The other component is a combination of motivation, vision and commitment....a personal commitment to We Care philosophy of caring excellence. We attribute our on-going success to a simple philosophy: We ask our staff to treat each of our clients with the same dignity, respect and love they would offer a close friend or relative. We can help you to enjoy the independence and lifestyle that only quality home care service can offer.

In Home Massage Therapy

More and more seniors are finding benefits from Massage Therapy for conditions ranging from general stiffness to insomnia. These benefits are achieved by having the convenience of a massage therapy session in ones own home, and some extended health care plans cover massage therapy.

Stacey Opalka of Spring Garden Massage Therapy, has been a massage therapist for over eight years. During this time she has seen an increasing demand for therapeutic massage amongst seniors and is currently working with seniors from Melville Heights in Halifax.

"Many people find great results from Massage Therapy. The session is tailored to each client for individual care. Checking with your medical doctor for any contradictions would be suggested." expresses Stacey Opalka.

For more information on Massage Therapy In-Home Sessions please call Stacey at 455-4300.

Respite Programs

Respite Care

Caring for the chronically ill and disabled persons may pose a heavy burden on families, tying them down for long periods of time. This is where respite care comes into the picture. The phrase means the provision of alternative care, generally in a group setting, for two or three weeks or less, while the family caring for the individual takes a vacation and has respite from the burden of constantly being on the job.

There are a number of homes for special care that provide respite or vacation beds including:

Seniors' Day Program

The Seniors' Day Program was established in 1982 as an outreach service for the Northside area designed to assist seniors (65 years of age or older) to maintain their independence in the community. Clients of the program are provided with day-time medical, nursing, rehabilitative, nutritional, spiritual, and psychosocial activities supplementing family care.

With volunteers, the activities coordinator plans and directs exercise programs, crafts, religious services and special events. Hearing and speech, foot care and hair dressing services are also provided.

Transportation is provided for those who require it, along with a noon meal and snacks. Clients are charged a small fee for these services.

Referrals are accepted from physicians, health professionals, clergy or families. Clients applying must require at least two of the services provided. Hours of operation are 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday to Friday, excluding holidays. For information contact:

N.S. Department of Housing and Municipal Affairs

Access-A-Home Program

The Department of Housing and Municipal Affairs provides funds to adapt existing housing units to suit persons who use wheelchairs. Grants up to $3,000 are available for the removal of architectural barriers which limit the use of a wheelchair.

Parent Apartment Program

The Parent Apartment Program offers low interest loans to a maximum of $25,000 to create affordable housing accommodation for senior family members by additions, alterations, or renovations to a single family dwelling or the purchase of a garden suite.

To qualify, the parent means a person or persons, one of whom is 50 years of age or older, whose combined annual income is $20,000 or less.

The home must be the applicant's or parent's principal residence and outstanding charges on the property must not exceed 90 percent of market value after completion of the new unit. Up to 550 square feet of space can be renovated or added on. The loan must be secured by a first or second mortgage. The interest rate is six per cent with a repayment term of not more than 10 years.

Provincial Housing Emergency Repair Program (PHERP)

This program provides funds to assist persons of low and fixed incomes to carry out emergency repairs to their homes. Grants are available in the form of a one-time grant to a maximum of $2,500.

The eligibility requirements are: combined income of $14,000 or less per year; client ownership; and the needed housing repairs must resolve a health and safety hazard. The dwelling must be the applicant's principal residence and be a single family unit, including a detached or semi-detached unit, a mobile home or a row housing unit.

Senior Citizens Assistance Program (SCAP)

This program provides funds to assist senior citizens 65 years of age or older. Assistance may be provided to qualifying seniors who wish to remain in their own homes but who are unable to afford repairs required to allow them to do so. Up to a maximum of $3,000 may be available to qualifying seniors. Eligibility requires that the client or spouse be 65 years of age or over; must have a combined annual income of $20,000 or less, own and reside in the dwelling for which the application is made; and must not have received previous assistance.

The dwelling must be the principal residence of the applicant and be a single family unit, including a detached, or semi-detached unit, a mobile home, or a unit of row housing.

Housing Adaptation for Seniors Independence (HASI)

HASI was set up to assist low-income seniors who have difficulties with daily living activities in the home by providing financial assistance to home owners and landlords to carry out minor home adaptations. The assistance is in the form of a forgivable loan; the maximum amount available is $2,500. The forgivable loan is secured with a promissory note and the loan is forgiven during the 6 month forgivable period.

Small Loans Assistance Program (SLAP)

The Small Loans Assistance Program provides low interest loans up to $20,000 for repairs, alterations or adaptations to single family homes and for completion or partial completion of a single family home. Recent changes aimed at speeding up the application process now make it possible to get a loan up to $3,000 through a promissory note.

Assistance may also be provided to homeowners and/or occupants of larger family homes to convert a portion of the home to a self-contained apartment unit.

Eligibility requires that the client own and reside in the dwelling; have a gross family income of $35,000 or less per year; have a good credit rating; and total housing indebtedness not exceeding 27 per cent of the gross family income defined to include principal, interest and taxes. The dwelling must be the principal residence of the applicant and be a single family unit including a detached or semi-detached unit, a mobile home or a unit of row housing.

Special Purpose Non-Profit Housing

Seniors' Apartments

Public Non-Profit Housing

As a result of recent changes, seniors may not be required to sell their principal residence. The new policy allows for an adjusted rental charge based on the revenue that would be received from the assessed value of the seniors' property invested at prevailing interest rates. In the interim, they pay their fair share in the rental units.

A total of 7,797 senior citizens' housing units are available through 7 housing authorities located in Nova Scotia. Housing Authority offices are located in the following areas of Nova Scotia:

70 Legal Services

Public Legal Education Society of Nova Scotia

The Public Legal Education Society (PLE) is a not-for-profit society that provides Nova Scotians with information and resources about the law. Programs include a legal information line and lawyer referral service, dial-a-law which provides information on tape, publications about the law including wills, powers of attorney, and a seniors and the law kit, a website, a speakers bureau of lawyers and other professionals who will talk to community groups about the law.

PLE receives funding from the Law Foundation of Nova Scotia, the Department of Justice Canada and the Nova Scotia Department of Justice. It also relies on fundraising activities and donations from the public.

Legal Information Line and Lawyer Referral Services

To ask questions about the law or to use the Lawyer Referral Service call 455-3135 in the Halifax/Dartmouth Metro area or 1-800 665-9779 if you are calling long distance (toll free in Nova Scotia).

Through the Lawyer Referral Service, you can be referred to a lawyer who will give you up to a 30 minute consultation for $20 plus taxes.

Dial A Law

To listen to legal information on tape, call 420-1888. This is not a toll free service but it is available 24 hours a day. You will need a touch tone phone.

The Website provides information on PLE's activities. You can ask questions by e-mail and read a number of our publications posted on our site.

Making a Will

The period following a death can be a highly emotional time. It is wise, then, to do some basic pre-planning to spare your friends and family from agonizing decisions, confusion, worry and legal entanglements by drawing up a will. It is advisable to have your will drawn up by a lawyer. The fee is minimal and well worth the investment. You can also write your own will without professional assistance. Standard forms are available at most stationery or office supply stores. You will need two competent adults, who are not mentioned in the will or married to someone named in the will, to act as witnesses to your signing. The witnesses must be present with the testator and witness his or her signing of the will and sign as witness to the will in each others presence.

It's important that you keep your will in a safe place that is known to your executor. Your executor is the person you wish to handle your affairs after your death. As soon as there are significant changes in your estate, your will should be updated. If your will appoints no executor or if the executor, though appointed, is unable or unwilling to act, or if you die without leaving a will the Probate Court may appoint an "administrator" to administer the estate. Your next-of-kin resident in Nova Scotia is eligible for appointment by the court to be "administrator" or "administrator with will annexed" of your estate.

Power of Attorney

A power of attorney is a legal document in which you give another person authority to act on your behalf. The person you give power to is called the attorney. You are called the principal. You are still free to deal with property, bank accounts and investments. Illness, physical infirmity or some other reason may make you unable to deal with your affairs. You may give power of attorney to anyone who is 19 years of age or older. You should choose someone you can trust and who will carry out your wishes.

It is wise to have a lawyer draw up your Power of Attorney although, you can draw up a Power of Attorney yourself, however you should talk to a lawyer who can explain the legal consequences of giving power of attorney. The document must be witnessed. The witness should not be the attorney or the attorney's spouse. Enduring Power of Attorney will allow the agreement to continue even if you become mentally incompetent.

The Public Trustee Office

The Public Trustee is likewise eligible for appointment and may, on its initiative, apply to the Court for and be granted authority to administer your estate when others, who are eligible to do so have not applied. In certain circumstances, the Public Trustee may be entitled in priority to all other persons to apply for and be granted appointment as "administrator" or "administrator with will annexed".

The Public Trustee will act as an executor of an estate when appointed by a will to do so. For further information contact:

The Ombudsman

The Ombudsman Office is a unique office that when necessary will provide an independent, impartial and unbiased investigation into complaints against provincial and municipal government departments, agencies, and officials. As an independent and impartial Office we do not act as an advocate for the complainant nor as a representative of the government. We are an Office of last resort and as such will only formally investigate a complaint if a person has taken advantage of all avenues of appeal and or redress that is available to them.

Long-Term Care

Homes for Special Care

Homes for Special Care provide a continuum of services for eligible Nova Scotians who are disabled and/or elderly and who are unable to live independently in the community. The Homes for Special Care which provide services primarily to seniors are; homes for the aged, licensed nursing homes, and residential care facilities. In 1993, responsibility for Homes for the Aged and licensed Nursing Homes transferred to the Department of Health. The Residential Care facilities continued with the Department of Community Services. Any facility which provides care for four or more residents must be licensed under the provisions of the Homes for Special Care Act and Regulations. Standards of care are maintained in these homes through a system of inspections from the respective provincial departments. For more information on residential care facilities, contact:

Janet Bray, Acting Director of Community Supports for Adults
Department of Community Services

Admission to a Home for Special Care

If you can pay for the cost of your care in a Home for Special Care for eighteen months or more, you are considered to be a private-paying person. This allows you to make application for admission directly to a non-municipally owned/operated home of your choice. The admission to a specific home will be an arrangement between the administrator of the home and yourself.

However, seniors who are seeking admission to a Home for Special Care and who do not have significant funds to pay for their care must apply to the Community Services Office in the area where they live. A worker will be assigned to the applicant and will obtain information from the applicant or someone authorized to act on the applicants behalf. Based on this information, the assigned worker will decide if the applicant's need for care and his or her ability to pay for the care in the home.

Further information on the Community Services office in your area is listed on page 37-38.

Non-Profit Agencies, Service Clubs & Support Groups

(NS)

Associated Homes for Special Care (Nova Scotia) is a not-for-profit organization which represents facilities and service providers who address the needs of those in our society who need help with the daily tasks of living. Member organizations serve clients such as the elderly with restricted mobility, and the adult physically and mentally challenged community. Member organizations may be facilities which offer residential care or organizations offering support services. There are over 50 members in the organization, all from the Continuing Care sector.

The organization's main goal is to bring quality of living to those residents and clients that members organizations serve.

This is achieved by:

- sharing information about ways of enhancing client living;
- establishing standards for the industry and working to encourage their adoption by government;
- educating and involving the public in the creation of quality care for our

Canadian National Institute for the Blind (CNIB)

The Canadian National Institute for the Blind (CNIB) is a national voluntary agency providing services to individuals across Canada to whom loss of vision is a central problem in personal and social adjustment. CNIB also acts as a consultant and resource agency to the helping professions, government departments and private industry. The CNIB is committed to helping anyone with a vision problem that cannot be corrected using ordinary lenses and that significantly affects the person's ability to function. The CNIB uses a team approach in which staff, volunteers and clients work together towards a set of common goals. Our purpose is to help blind and visually impaired persons achieve the lifestyle they want,

Parkinson Foundation of Canada

The main objectives of the Foundation are to:

- provide hope for tomorrow, by funding research for a cure for Parkinson's and;
- make life better today, by providing services, support, advocacy and education.

Through active participation, members of the Foundation provide many services, and hope for those affected by Parkinson's. In the Maritime Region, the Foundation provides a network of support to people affected by Parkinson's, as well as:

- free information, written and oral, with toll-free phone access for the Atlantic Provinces 1-800-663-2468
- monthly self-help and support group meetings, and specialized seminars;
- weekly exercise groups in some areas;
- resource library: videos, books and publications for loan or sale, and free brochures;
- national and regional newsletters with updates on issues and activities of interest;
- advocacy on issues of interest to people affected by Parkinson's.

These services are some of the many benefits of membership in the Foundation. Membership in the Foundation only costs $25.00 per year.

The tulip is the floral symbol of Parkinson's, and bulbs are sold by the Foundation for fall planting.

Canadian Liver Foundation

The Canadian Liver Foundation, founded in 1969, was the first organization in the world devoted to providing support for research and education into the causes of liver disease. Through a private grant in memory of H.W. Knight Jr. as well as a Research Fellowship and a Research Scholarship, the Canadian Liver Foundation, to date, has directed more than $6 million to medical research programs.

The Canadian Liver Foundation continues to honour its original mandate of reducing the incidence and impact of all liver diseases. It provides support for research and education into all causes, diagnosis, prevention and treatment of liver disease.

The Canadian Liver Foundation provides many services for liver disease patients, their families and the public, including:

- education programs such as the Living With Liver Disease Program based on the needs of patients and health care professionals;
- over 30 volunteer chapters from coast to coast serving Canadians in their own communities;
- information services including telephone, mail and Internet; brochures on many liver and biliary tract diseases;
- public awareness activities to create a

Support Programs

Early Alzheimer Support Program

A clinical diagnosis of Alzheimer Disease is now being made earlier in the course of the illness. People receiving this diagnosis are in need of support and information. In response to this need, a pilot program began in Metro in January 1995 for two support groups for people in the first stages of Alzheimer Disease and their families. If you have a family member diagnosed in the early stages and would like information on either of these programs, please call the Alzheimer Society office at 422-7961 and ask for Marilyn Grant.

Alzheimer Society of Nova Scotia Family Education Support Groups

Monthly meetings offer information on Alzheimer Disease, occasional guest speakers, and a wonderful opportunity to gain support. Please call the leader in your area for date, time and location of meeting. (*Phone support only)

Good Neighbours Take Time To Reach Out

The Good Neighbours Campaign in Nova Scotia is patterned after the Good Neighbours Campaign in Ontario and is sponsored by the Royal Bank of Canada and the Nova Scotia Provincial Government. The program was officially launched April 27, 1993.

Good Neighbours is a public awareness campaign targeted at all segments of the community, particularly the frail, isolated or vulnerable.

Good Neighbours promotes an attitude to encourage people to reach out and help one another and to create caring, sharing and friendly communities. It inspires communities to build on existing good will and encourages ideas and responses that assist individuals to live independently in their communities.

Seniors' Goodwill Ambassador Program

The Seniors' Ambassador Program is part of a government project initiated in order to promote Nova Scotia at home and abroad by utilizing the skills of volunteers 50 years of age and older.

Having resided in Nova Scotia for many years, these ambassadors are well equipped to promote both the potential and positive aspects of their local areas as well as the beautiful province of Nova Scotia as a whole.

A Visit Into The Past

A perfect Nova Scotia outing is an excursion to visit the historic Ross Farm Museum, just 15 minutes from Chester Basin on Route 12 in New Ross (Exit 9 off Hwy. 103)

At this fully restored living museum of agriculture you can glimpse a gentler, peaceful time when people, animals and nature worked together in harmony. Talk with museum interpreters in period costumes who demonstrate crafts from the early days such as spinning wool and flax to make thread for clothing, wooden spoon and barrel making, as well as watching the master blacksmith make horse or ox shoes. He always has a few irons in the fire. The entire farm museum illustrates farming heritage while presenting the story of this 1816 settlement of inland Nova Scotia.

Overlooking Lake Lawson in a picturesque setting in Lunenburg County, the museum features eight historic buildings, a reception centre and gift shop. Crop plant species of the historic period such as flax are grown and harvested in the gardens. These and the heritage animals, chickens, wild turkeys, oxen reinforces both the agricultural and historic themes. Implements and artifacts on display in the barn illustrate agricultural developments in Nova Scotia through the years. In addition to the historic site itself, there are nature trails, horse drawn wagon rides, a gift shop, and a variety of participatory activities. Plan at the very least to spend a couple of hours when you come.

The air is fresh and pure, the farm sound relaxing and reassuring that some place in this hurried world of ours is still peaceful, quiet and has lasting value.
